RICH DEPOSITS OF KAOLIN.

Located in Jackson County-A Stock Company Formed.

Mr. J. S. Jarrett, of Sylva, N. C., some time ago bought seventeen fine deposits of kaolin, and sent two car loads to the North, where it was ground and made into ware. It proved (that is, the de-posit he sent the two cars from) to be the finest ever discovered, not only in this country, but in any country. This is superior to any of his other deposits and Commercial. Job and Book work. In fact very fine that he found no trouble to get Eastern capital to take hold of it, and very soon he formed a stock company and capitalized it at $500,000. All of the and capitalized it at $500,000. All of the stock was at once taken. It was organized by electing the following officers: President, Thomas Pracken, of New-York; vice-president, J. S. Jarrett, of Sylva, N. C.; treasurer, Hugh O'Donnell, of New York; superintendent, H. H. Simmons, Princeton, N. J.; secretary, H. N. Hooper, Brooklyn, New York. They have bought about all of their machinery; also land about all of their machinery; also land for site. They will erect an elevated wire cable tram to the mines which is about 2½ miles from site of factory, and will put in ten grinding machines and have a capacity of 40 tons per day of 10 hours. hey expect to start up by the first of February. They start up with orders for 400 tons of their material. The plant will cost $40,000 when ready to turn Bishop Lyman's Return.

The New York Herald, in speaking of Bishop Lyman's return from Europe,

Bishop Lyman, of the Episcopal church, who was appointed by the last convention to take charge of the churches in Europe, arrived yesterday morning on the White Star steamer

The Bishop started for Europe about he middle of October, his first objec-ive point being Geneva, where he spent two Sundays. He found the con-gregation in that city in a very satis-factory condition. The next two Sunlays he spent in Dresden, where he dministered the rite of confirmation o seven candidates.

After leaving Dresden the Bishop went to Florence, and later visited dome and Nice, consecrating a new and beautiful stone church in the latter city. His last oficial appointment for the year was at Paris, on December 16, ful from the start to the finish, and the ea comparatively calm.

Evangelist Pearson in Greenville The Greenville Enterprise and Mountaineer says of him:

By a previous arrangement by the pastors of the churches of the city, Rev. R. G. Pearson, an evangelist of much reputation, has been invited to Greenville to conduct a revival meeting. He arrived on Saturday afternoon, and is the guest of Mr. G. H. Gilreath.

His first appearance was on Sunday night at the Baptist church, where the meetings are to be conducted on account of its enlarged capacity. The seats, mmense one.

His utterances have the characteristics of a profound earnestness and sim-plicity of expression, and he evinces a great desire to influence the minds of his auditors for the purpose of arousing in them a desire for better living. His effort on this occasion was unattended by any attempts at oratory, his de-livery being unpretending.

We hear commendation of these ser-vices from every mouth, accompanied with the expressed wish that great good will follow them. They are to continue for at least three weeks.
